The image contains a scientific article discussing the effect of acupuncture on carpal tunnel syndrome with fMRI assessment of cortical somatotopy. The article includes figures and references, as well as a table with a bar graph showing the mean neuropathic symptom severity in CTS patients before and after acupuncture treatment. The article is written in English and covers studies involving carpal tunnel syndrome, acupuncture, and fMRI assessments.